

KRUGER PACKAGING E'TOWN 'ROLLS' OUT FIRST CORRUGATED SHEETS

Kruger Packaging E'town team members commemorate the first sheets of paper produced at the cutting-edge plant.

The Kruger Packaging E'town team recently celebrated production of the first sheets of corrugated paper at the soon-to-be opened, state-of-the-art corrugated box plant. The latest milestone is proof positive that, when complete, the Kruger Packaging E'town plant will be the supplier of choice to a wide variety of customers looking for high-quality corrugate, innovative and sustainable packaging solutions and exceptional customer service.

"We are one step closer to building better boxes for companies across the region. From here, these rolls of corrugated paper will soon be converted into the strongest, most cost-effective boxes in the industry. Construction is full steam ahead, and I can't wait to celebrate completion with the team and community in the very near future."

– John Keith, Kruger Packaging E'town General Manager
